PROGRESSIVE LEADERS HOLD "WAKE" OVER BULL MOOSE; COLONEL FAILS TO ATTEND

Executive Committee of Party Meets Amid Gloom and Silence.

AWAIT WORD FROM T. R.

"Where's the Money Coming From?" Is Question They Want Answered.

In secret council of war, surviving generals of the Progressive party met to-day to decide how to retreat after the political disaster of Tuesday. Like the French army after Moscow, left by Napoleon to find its own way out of Russian swamps and snowdrifts, the Bull Moose commanders at today's meeting in Forty-second street headquarters looked and waited in vain for Col. Roosevelt.

He did not appear in the hour of supreme crisis for the party, although it was said his faithful secretary, McGrath, was expected to arrive some time in the afternoon from Oyster Bay with messages and instructions from the absent commander-in-chief.

A special room in the headquarters suite was set apart for any telephone communication that the Colonel might care to establish with the leaders.
Newspaper reporters in waiting were driven out from it and a watchful guard established to listen for the first ring of the bell. As the hours passed in silence, the sentry relaxed vigilance and lost himself in a volume of pure fiction.

Secrecy, double-padded secrecy, was the order of the day. Visitors were admitted only to the outermost room. From the council chamber there was not even the sound of voices.
The debate, if there was any, evidently was conducted in whispers.

D. K. Davis, Secretary of the National Committee, said: "My orders are like those of the captain to the mate: 'I want only silence from you, and damned little of that!'"

Nominally, it was a meeting of the National Executive Committee of the party, composed of George W. Perkins, Chairman; W. F. Brown, Ohio; William Filin, Pennsylvania; Meyer Lissner, California; Ben Lindsey, Colorado; G. C. Priestly, Oklahoma; Miss Jane Addams, Chicago; J. M. Dixon, Montana, and Medill McCormick, Chicago.

Only a few of the committee were present. Most of them sent proxies to New Yorkers to represent them. Even Secretary Davis would not tell who were present, but among those in the room were George W. Perkins, Bainbridge Colby and Chauncey Hamlin, who had come from Buffalo.

At the noon hour there was no adjournment. An attendant carried in a plate of sandwiches. In the various office rooms a diminished force of clerks and stenographers worked distractedly sending out Progressive literature, but their thoughts were apparently more intent on how long the job would last.

The most serious question that confronted the Executive Committee was that of finance. Would Mr. Perkins continue to foot the bills? If not, who would? The second question was how many of the faithful would continue to stand another Armageddon like that of Tuesday, when Sulzer beat them two to one, and even the Socialists claimed more votes than the Progressives in New York State?

WILL TRY SIEGEL ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE, NO LESS

District-Attorney and Stanch-field Say There Is No Other Intention.

John H. Stanchfield, counsel for Henry Siegel in his trial on a charge of grand larceny, which begins at Genesee next Monday, said this afternoon that his client would go to trial on a charge of grand larceny, and on no other charge, and that the defense had no idea or intention of reducing the action to one for misdemeanor.

"I have never made any statement that Mr. Siegel might be tried for a misdemeanor," he said, "and we have no idea whatever of seeking to get at the case in that way. Mr. Siegel was not indicted for grand larceny.
He was indicted for grand larceny, and we go to trial to face that charge."

At the District-Attorney's office it was said that there had never been the least consideration of trying the New York merchant on any other basis than that specified in the indictment.

Although District-Attorney Whitman has said since he was elected Governor that the ethics would prevent him from appearing as a prosecutor in the Siegel case, it was not until to-day that he issued a formal statement in the matter. The statement was:

As the situation seems to be without precedent, I have sought the advice of the Appellate Division of the First Department as to the propriety of my appearing in person at the trial of the People vs. Siegel in Livingston County next week.

The Presiding Justice and his associates on the bench advise me that it is their opinion that I should not personally conduct the People's case or appear at the trial, and I shall be guided in my conduct entirely by the opinion of this court.

THEATRE BARS U. S. TARS.

Secretary Daniels Indignant Over Action by House Here.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Secretary Daniels was indignant to-day when he received a report that four blue-jackets in uniform had been barred from a New York theatre.

"This is nothing less than an outrage," said Secretary Daniels. "and I shall instruct the Commandant of the New York Yard to see that the rights of the men in question are protected when the complaint comes up for hearing."

HERE'S NEW CURE FOR A TOOTHACHE: PINCH YOUR THUMB

Osteopath Announces New Discovery in Address to Convention.

MAKES NERVES NUMB.

New Kind of Anaesthetic May Be Used in Surgery, Says Dr. Smith.

Undergoing the ministrations of a dentist can be made as painless as getting a pair of shoes half soled and no drugs will be required for anaes-thesia if the claims made by a lecturer at the convention of the New York Osteopathic Society, in session at the Park Avenue Hotel to-day, can be substantiated.

He claimed that toothaches can be cured by pressing the thumb or fingers of either hand and that the same sort of pressure will make the gums and teeth insensible to pain.

Dr. R. Kendrick Smith was the osteopath who advanced the theory of pressure anaesthesia and he gave a clinical demonstration to prove his point. Dr. Smith, by pressure on the second joint of a patient's left thumb, took away all sense of feeling from a patient's two left incisors and established the fact by jabbing a lancet into the man's gum. The man said he suffered no pain.

Knowledge of the nerve system is the basis of the treatment. Almost any part of the body can be anaes-thetized, according to Dr. Smith, if the operator knows just where to squeeze. The toothache remedy is only an instance in the scope of the treatment. If it is established all manipulative girls will have to take osteopathic lessons in holding hands and squeezing thumbs and fingers.

The theory is described as follows by Dr. Smith:

"The reflex pressure anaesthesia is administered by grasping the second joint of a finger or toe between the thumb and finger, and holding it firmly close to the distal end for about one minute. For another minute press similarly upon the dorsal and plantar aspects.

"The patient promptly says that the finger feels numb, and he traces the progress of a wave of numbness extending gradually upward the entire height of the body. When the numbness passes the location of the pain for which the anaesthesia is being administered, the suffering ceases, and when the area to be operated upon by dentistry or minor surgery is reached by the numb wave surgery may be instituted without pain.

"The thumb on its own side, the fore finger the first bicuspid, the second finger the next two, the third finger the next and the little fingers the last ones. The thumb and fingers are used for dental work, but for minor surgery or for a larger area pressure is exerted on the radius and ulna at the wrist."

MISS BURKHARDT QUIZZED ON DEALS SULLIVAN MADE

Convict's Woman Agent Is Asked About $2,500 Mortgage That Is Questioned.

APPEARS VOLUNTARILY.

Failed Bank's Victims Charge Larceny Was Committed
When Banker Was in Jail.

The charge that David A. Sullivan, convicted President of the bankrupt Union Bank, utilized the freedom accorded him by the recently deposed Warden McCormick of Sing Sing Prison for the transaction of private business to his own profit, was taken up to-day by the Kings County Grand Jury, after many delays.

Lillian D. Burkhardt, who was Sullivan's private secretary during his career as a financier and continued to be his outside representative after he went to Sing Sing to serve his term of from two to four years, appeared at the office of District-Attorney Crosby at 10 o'clock to-day and announced her willingness to testify.

Miss Burkhardt was accompanied from her home in Yonkers to Brooklyn by her brother Fred. She was hurried to an interior room in Mr.
Crosby's office where she was questioned by the District-Attorney.

Mr. Crosby and depositions in the Union Bank are probing what they allege is a specific case of grand larceny on the part of Sullivan, committed after he was sent to prison.
The case has to do with a mortgage of $2,500 at 6 per cent. given seven years ago by Israel Temple, No. 228 Christopher avenue, Brownsville, Brooklyn, to secure a loan made by the Mechanics & Traders' Bank, of which Sullivan was in control.

CHARGE SULLIVAN HAS RE-CEIVED INTEREST.

After the loan transaction, the Mechanics and Traders' Bank was absorbed by the Union Bank, of which Sullivan was president. Then Sullivan formed the Joramole Trust Company, a dummy corporation, and the Union Bank assigned to the Joramole Trust Company the Israel Temple mortgage and other securities for loans.

It is charged Sullivan, by manipu-

RUSSIA'S GREATEST VICTORY OF WAR WON IN GALICIA

Muscovite Successes Along Vistula Followed by Overwhelming Defeat of Austrians, Grand Duke Nicholas Tells Joffre.

PARIS, Nov. 6 (Associated Press).— Grand Duke Nicholas, Commander-in-Chief of the Russian forces in the field, has sent a telegram to Gen.
Joffre, Commander-in-Chief of the French forces, saying the Russians have gained in East Prussia the greatest victory since the beginning of the war.

The telegram is as follows: Following our successes upon the Vistula, a complete victory has just been gained by our troops along the whole of the front in Galicia. Our strategical manoeuvre has thus been crowned by what is undoubtedly the greatest success gained on our side since the beginning of the war.

I am most confident of the speedy and entire accomplishment of our common task, persuaded as I am that decisive victory will be gained by the allied armies.

GERMANS TRY TO CUT WAY THROUGH LINES AT ARRAS AND YPRES

Field Ten Miles Long at Ypres Is Strewn With Dead—Kaiser's Troops Trying to Recross Yser Canal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6 (Associated Press).—Private advices to-day to British shipping agents here from their correspondents in Valparaiso report that an engagement is taking place off Yauyos, Peru, between British, German and Japanese warships.

Press despatches telling of a previous German-British naval engagement are confirmed in the messages.

In the German account of the naval battle off the Chilean coast, it was stated that the cruiser Monmouth was sunk and that the cruiser Good Hope disappeared while on fire. It was also stated that the cruiser Glasgow and the transport Otranto escaped.

More than a week ago it was announced that a Japanese fleet had been seen about 2,500 miles from the South American coast, and it is this fleet that may have been in battle with the Germans off the coast of Peru.

The British Admiralty has received no word about the battle off the Chilean coast. It has reported that the battleship Canopus was on her way to reinforce Admiral Craddock. This warship may have by this time joined the vessels that escaped from the Germans.

Two German Columns Attack the French Line at Arras

PARIS, Nov. 6 (Associated Press).—Violent German attacks at Arras indicate that another attempt is being made to cut a way through the allied lines similar to that of October 31.

The attacks were made by two columns, one from Lens and the other from Douai, which joined at Bailloul (seventeen miles northwest of Lille).

The French had evacuated the villages north of Arras and kept their troops concealed in the city. The Germans marched into the suburb of St. Nicholas with bands playing and colors flying. Suddenly fire was opened from the houses as the enemy debouched onto the bridge over the Scarpe.

A battalion guard with fixed bayonets dashed forward, hoping to escape into the city, but French dragoons unexpectedly appeared. Caught between quickfiring and the sabres of the cavalry, the guardsmen threw down their arms while the troops behind them beat a hasty retreat.

A French aviator dropped bombs, destroying the track behind an armored train which was following the columns.
On the train was found a 16-inch gun which was being transported in sections and accompanied by a number of engineers from Krupp's.

Germans are bringing in heavy reinforcements in the determination of increasing instead of diminishing the fury of their attack. Emperor William is said to be at the scene personally directing the attack.

Forty heavy German guns from the Krupp works at Essen are on their way to Arras.

Most of the area near the coast is held only by dead dying and wounded, the inundation having made it impos-
